

Rationale

I chose to design my web pages with Helvetica Neue in different variants for almost all of the text, with the exception of the contact and body info, I used Futura. I did this because Helvetica Neue is by far the most visually appealing font, and Futura works well for being easy to read in a small amount of space. I used black for the text and a pale brown for the background. This gives a professional feel without being boring with black and white. Finally, I made all of my links pictures, because I think looking at a wall of text is intimidating and monotonous.
